Congresswoman May Be Senator

HARRY WILLIAMS FINDS
MISS RANKIN PLEASING

HARRY A. WILLIAMS.
DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.
WASHINGTON BUREAU
OF THE TIMES, Feb. 24.—The Hon. Jean P. Rankin, that's the way it appears in the directory, may change her Congressional name for a Senatorial title one of these days.

Rankin is the only woman Congressman dead or alive. Consider my first impression, it does not bear to be the only lady in the House of Representatives. She is greatly enthused over her election and has laudable ambitions for the future.

Her two goals were national suffrage and prohibition and she now regards these as a cinch. However, gallant in only one cause, she and the fair sag will wield the way to make this a better from the woman's standpoint.

She has told all at her Calvert street, where she is with her mother and sister, that her, white militant, very strong and feminine, with all the qualities she extended an option to remain for dinner.

ASPIRATIONS.

Rankin has not yet thrown her hat into the ring and neither has she begun sewing on her Senate togs. But she adds that a race in the upper house might be attractive. Soon after her election to Congress she remarked facetiously that she might later run for the Senate. At times, they districts in suits, with a smile, a stalwart Republican, found herself in a district that is acutely Democratic. Although she was the only member of the House to claim that it is a distinct disqualification for her to be bounded on all sides by lifelong Democrats, and under some conditions it would be just as well to be bounded on all sides by Republicans.

She admits the possibility of a white satin toga with lace and a gold ribbon would do to make the campaign more attractive and the only way to accomplish this is to elect a woman.

Penrose or any of the other women couldn't wear a toga like it.

It isn't suited to their style

NEW SOCIAL WRINKLE.

Asked if she had any desire on the Presidency, Miss Rankin said and remarked that there is nothing in the Constitution to prevent a lady from occupying that office, she can do it.

In this event, she would be the President and the first of the land, an entirely new name in the social and political life of Washington.

However, she would be very desirous to make a rousing campaign for the Presidency.

She was killed as the rough and Lincoln as the rail splitter.

Others were killed as self-made and popular heroes could be managed for a woman candidate that would appeal to the common man.

She can't get any votes to say that man candidate started as a

Congressman, but she has no objections. Miss Rankin is cultured and deeply womanly, the exact antithesis of the popular conception of a woman candidate.

She is a cinch that she couldn't be a Congresswoman, but she has something to wonder what kind of campaign would have been in behalf of Lincoln if he had been a had carrier instead of a tall and he had been shown upright at the foot of a ladder

with a had of mortar on one

VOTE GETTER.

VIOLATED HIS OATH.

Army Captain is Sentenced.

Officer of German Extraction Denundered at War on His Friends, Relatives.

Twenty-five Years in Leavenworth Prison to do Penance for His Crime.

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE. NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—Capt. David A. Henkes, Sixteenth Infantry, U.S.A., has been sentenced to dismissal from the service and confinement at hard labor for twenty-five years by a general court-martial held at Governor's Island.

Henkes, who is of German descent, endeavored to resign his commission, saying he did not care to fight against relatives and friends.

Capt. Henkes, who was stationed at San Antonio, Tex., last May, wrote to the Secretary of War urging him to accept the resignation, which he had already submitted, and giving reasons which he declared, would no longer allow him to serve as an officer of the American army.

"Further service as a commissioned officer must sooner or later take me to Europe and there bring me in conflict with my relatives and friends," although for the time being my legal enemies," Capt. Henkes wrote. "My father came from Germany. My mother was born here shortly after the arrival of her parents. We have many other relatives and friends there."

"I cannot force myself to the conviction that I am capable of making war on my relatives and friends in a manner that would become my duty and station."

Capt. Henkes, soon after he had submitted his resignation, was ordered to report to the American expeditionary forces in France from his quarters there, June 29, 1917, wrote to the Adjutant-General in Washington calling attention to the fact he had not resigned and declaring that his battalion commander, department quartermaster, and the commanding officer of the Southern Department had approved his action.

Again, on October 18, while still on duty in France, Capt. Henkes wrote another letter to the Adjutant-General in which he urged acceptance of his resignation.

Capt. Henkes was then summoned before a general court-martial at Governor's Island, where he was formally charged with violation of the Constitution of the United States and desertion, that he would bear true faith and allegiance to the same," had written the letter concerning his resignation.

At Leavenworth, Kan., was designated as the place of imprisonment.

DOUBLE REASON.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—Evidence that in spite of his commission in the United States Army he was in touch with German agents, according to Vice-Admiral E. G. Bowes, commanding the American expeditionary forces in France, was adduced in his defense at his trial here yesterday.

It was shown that Capt. Henkes had been an active propagandist for the German and Austrian-Turkish funds and had been an active propagandist.

Before Mrs. Henkes could carry out the order her home was entered and the incriminating letters and papers seized. According to officers of the Southern Department, the court-martial, these proved that Henkes not only had been in communication with Count von Bernstorff, then German Ambassador to the United States, but had obtained funds from the Austrian and Turkish funds and had been an active propagandist.

Henkes was born in Iowa in 1875 and joined the Army in 1896. He was tried for trial because of his insistent demands that he be allowed to resign to avoid fighting relatives and friends in Germany. On landing in France he was given a furlough to his wife. This was denied, but he was permitted to telephone and tell his wife he was to be discharged, but he was permitted to telephone and tell his wife he was to be discharged.

The list includes: Wilhelm Christian, San Francisco; Roy O. Houston, Redding, Cal.; Emil L. Gart, Mendocino, Cal.; Alvin C. Lark, Wm. J. Lee, Chico, Cal.; Alvin C. Perea, Lagunitas, Cal.

CHINA TO SEND ARMY ENGINEERS TO FRANCE.

HUNDRED THOUSAND REGULARS READY, AWAITING FINAL ORDER.

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE. SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 24.—Plans for the participation of 100,000 Chinese of the regular army with the Allies on the western front, merely as awaiting action by the supreme Chinese military authorities, it was learned today by Capt. C. T. Liu, and C. T. Liu, who are on their way home to China after a long period spent as war observers.

The definite scheme for Chinese participation, it was said, already had the approval of the French War Office and the Chinese military attaches.

STEAMSHIP SERVICE.

Regular Calls to be Made at San Felipe in Gulf of California. Wharf to be Built.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE)

CALEXICO, Feb. 24.—Gov. Esteban Canto of the northern district of Lower California has received a letter from William Silver, merchant at La Paz, in the southern district, that a steamship would arrive at San Felipe at the head of the Gulf of Lower California, on March 2, and would be ready to carry products of the Imperial Valley to Mexican ports. According to Mr. Silver, the steamship would be the first of many to call at San Felipe.

Gov. Cantu recently sent an expedition from Mexicali to San Felipe to ascertain the cost of building a narrow gauge railroad from Mexicali to Mexicali. The engineers made a favorable report, and plans have been drawn for the railroad and wharf now for construction. Construction of the auto road to San Felipe is to be improved at the outset. As soon as the material for the wharf is received, the contractor will be authorized to begin surveying for the railroad will follow.

FEW BONDS BOUGHT BY GERMAN-AMERICANS

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE)

PORTERVILLE, Feb. 24.—Calls for bonds from all parts of Tulare county, which are being collected at the offices of J. W. Thomas, Librarian of the Tulare County Library District, indicate that very few German-Americans subscribe to either loan. There are some conspicuous exceptions, one German-American being the local branch manager and owner of Liberty Loan Bonds in Porterville, and for the most part the German-born citizens have not subscribed.

One of the first activities of the committees serving under Chairman Thomas will be to work among the Germans, with German-speaking helpers. It is believed if the Germans are to be induced to subscribe a general hold-out can be made in the German-American leagues, all of which is not to benefit baseball at a time when the public does not seem to be much better.

GRAIN AND FORAGE CONDITIONS IMPROVE

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE)

PORTERVILLE, Feb. 24.—Reports which are coming from the grain district are that the grain prices for the early-sown grain were unaffected by the winter rains, but put in before the showers in December promises to make an unusually heavy and vigorous wheat crop. The wheat crop in the county is showing up particularly well.

Small men declare pasture conditions have improved to the point where lambs are fat and meaty, and the cattle situation is serene again. Hay, however, promises to remain high in price as the unprecedented demand during the drought period practically made up the supply.

Tractors are busy in parts of the country preparing large increased acreages for grain.

MAGNESITE MINES TO START OPERATIONS

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE)

PORTERVILLE, Feb. 24.—Reports for the past six weeks because of the railroad situation in the East, and the resulting priority orders with regard to fuel and food, the magnesium mines of this district are practically out of the market. Orders are to resume their output. Orders from the eastern market are to be received for a considerable period, due to the fact that the phylloxera pest is considered a danger to the vines which have already been vine-pruned in this section.

Small mines were destroyed by fire and the shipper notified of action taken.

INSPECTOR DESTROYS IMPORTED VINES

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE)

PORTERVILLE, Feb. 24.—C. H. Depple, inspector for the Horticultural Commissioner for this district, held a large quantity of vines, evidently sent in to the state with the intention of evading quarantine. The restriction of these imports has been ordered for a considerable period, due to the fact that the phylloxera pest is considered a danger to the vines which have already been vine-pruned in this section.

Small vines were destroyed by fire and the shipper notified of action taken.

An interesting feature was the position of the vocational school which is being done by the women organization and other oriental residents.

WANTS SHARE IN MILLIONS.

Angeleno in Legal Fight for Part of Huge Estate.

Relative Leaves Money to Adopted Daughter.

Contestants Declare Actions were Illegal.

John L. Richards, a Los Angeles fireman, one of the litigants in a will contest involving a $15,000,000 estate in St. Louis, declared yesterday that he intended to fight for his share of the estate.

With his wife, Elizabeth L. Richards, who lives near Phoenix, and his sister, Mrs. Bebe E. McKeown, and another, Mrs. Billie Richards, both of the Los Angeles Fire Department, that is evidence of the late James C. Bell, a St. Louis capitalist, who left practically all of a $15,000,000 estate to a girl who claims to be adopted to the Los Angeles fireman, according to the Los Angeles fireman for a share of the estate, was never legally adopted.

Mrs. Richards' husband was a nephew of the late James C. Bell. Her sons are grand nephews of the deceased capitalist. Mrs. McKeown is their sister. When the estate was divided in the same manner as these shares in the will, it was discovered that the property had been left to her son, alleging that the daughter in the will had legally adopted. A jury upheld the fireman's claim in a second contest to break the will.

Their attorney was one day before filing his suit, and the court accepted it, a decision that the state's attorney set up the claim that the statute of limitations does not apply to married women. Four of the five women who claimed to be adopted to the fireman, as counsel for the plaintiff, has asked for a re-opening of the case. H. W. McNutt of this city represents the local contestants.

MEXICAN STRIVES TO AVERT CRIMES.

J. P. FERRER, Commissioner of Mexico City, Feb. 15.—Miguel Pasquier, financial agent of the government of El Paso, Tex., and one of the wealthiest financiers and business men in Mexico, has been confirmed with officials at the National Palace, Mexico City, as to what he declares is a crisis in the mining industry of the north of the republic, due to the lack of food imports and the embargo on gold exports to the United States government. Mexican workers, ascertained in an interview, will not accept American currency; the employers have received the importation of metal coins and gold bars, but not the coins. Food is exceedingly scarce, due to the American embargo. He wants the government to remedy the food situation and secure an amount of the gold embargo to permit the workers to be paid in American currency.

WIN WAR, THEN HELP READJUST.

Dr. Patton Voices an Appeal that All Should Heed.

Must Bend Energies Toward Humanitarian Tasks.

Says Church's Responsibility is Bigger than Ever.

A tremendous appeal for preparedness in the construction of the world at the close of the war was made yesterday morning by Dr. Carl A. Patton at the First Congregational Church. He spoke before an assembly of 1400 people on "A World in Peril." Frequent waves of applause emphasized the sympathy and affection of the great congregation as this eloquent preacher unfolded his theme. After dwelling upon the upheaval which has thrown the whole world into such a ferment as has never been known in civilization, he said, in part:

"It is not only war that is going on, but with that war is a change in the nature of the community of the old, a stirring ready for the new, to which history affords no parallel. Let it be said, and never forgotten, that the war is not American. It is the war of the world, of all that is just now only one business, that is to win the war. Nothing else, in comparison with that, is of any consequence. Whatever is necessary to do or to suffer, must be ready and anxious to do and to suffer. To this work, the church, like everything else, must bend her energies."

It is the period of reconstruction that follows every upheaval, and that will follow this one. In all that part of the world where the ferment is still the hottest, things

SHE SUFFERED FIVE YEARS

Finally Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Kew West, Fla.—"For five years I suffered from irregularities, with terrible pains and an awful weakness in my back. The doctor gave me different medicines but they did me no good. A friend asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I found it to be the best medicine I ever took.

It tried because it made me well, and I can now do my housework. I am telling my friends about it."—Mrs. J. M. Camus, 726 Caroline St., Kew, Florida.

Many women at some period in their life suffer from ailments peculiar to their sex and which in most cases may be readily relieved by this famous root and herb medicine, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, just as Mrs. Camus found it. She after suffering for years and trying everything else, found it.

If you have any annoying symptoms you fail to understand, write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. The results of their forty years experience in advising women on this subject is at your service.

Flora Lea, Who will appear in a big Red Cross "Winter Garden" ball.

RED CROSS AFFAIRS

For Red Cross Ball.

Plans were practically completed yesterday for the big Red Cross "Winter Garden" ball at the Alexandria Thursday evening. With the full membership of the "Red Cross" company which opens at the Mason this evening, among those present, and interest among society folk at concert pitch, according to the Red Cross promotion, the affair promises to be a Los Angeles' biggest Bohemian affair. Among other acts from the "Show of Wonders" Flora Lea, prima donna of the opera, and others, will be on the stage, and the table where the diplomats and statesmen will sit to fit the terms of peace, the part of America may be a worthy and a glorious one.

As that reconstruction comes, it will be found that no men and women of America have done more to effect it, or to make it a lasting and a Christian one, than those who, with no stripes on their shoulders and no rank or grade, for the breasts, but simply in the name of the compassionate Christ, and for the cause of our common humanity, are even now working for it in the darkest parts of the earth.

"The American board has just sent out a call for 175 new missionaries right now to enter this work of preparation, to be ready to serve in the Balkans as soon as the conditions make it possible. The situation there and in the Balkans is so extreme that the board does not wait until the war is over before organizing an advance."

TRIES TO END LIFE.

Defendant Man Slashes Throat and then Turns on Gas, but He's Expected to Live.

After leaving a note in which he said he was about to commit suicide by inhaling chloroform because he was despondent, out of work and handicapped by poor health, Frederick Davis, 45 years old, a soap manufacturer, of No. 225 West Sixteenth street, attempted to take his life by slashing his throat and then turning on the gas in the rear room of a store at No. 229 West Sixteenth street, yesterday.

FILL BLANKS FALSELY?

Germans Held by Police on Charge of Making Fraudulent Answers in Registering.

Caught in the meshes of their own answers, according to the police, Theodore Schwinderius, 39 years old, and Conrad Schwinderius, 45 years old, were arrested yesterday and lodged in the City Jail on the charge of making false affidavits to their registration blanks.

According to Officers Sholty, Left-hand and Deltrich, who made the arrests, the prisoners made false entries in the question blanks when registered as German alien enemies. Both men will be held for further investigation by the Federal authorities.

COMMITES SUICIDE.

Leaving no explanation for his act, Robert M. Young, 29 years old, a book-keeper for the San Pedro Lumber Company, committed suicide in his room, No. 47 Seventh street, Los Angeles Harbor, shooting himself through the heart.

A Mexican named Ruiz, who was taken by the police, but allowed to go later. He had dropped in Tucson, but left town on a long, hard trip about the time of the man called at the station for him. Spain has been in trouble on account of the war, having been convicted in the Federal court for peddling opium, and sentenced to a year and a half to the Federal penitentiary.

BOY SCOUTS IN THRIFT LINE.

Two thousand Boy Scouts, it was announced yesterday, will march through the streets of Los Angeles next Saturday, to do their part in stimulate the general public's interest in purchases of government bonds and war savings stamps. The march will be reviewed by the Mayor, the City Council, the Chamber of Commerce officials, and the executive and legislative branches. The parade, and the review, will be in the afternoon, with the direction of C. W. Morris. Gymkhana will be held at Raymond Park, and the special feature of the day will be the first appearance of Boy Scouts Pipe and Drum Corps, composed of sixty-five boys marching in two sections. A special feature will be a review from the dais, and the scouts will distribute literature.

LACKS HUMOR.

An impressive feature about the affair was the Kaiser's lack of a sense of humor. It is surely humorous to see this of hate and fury take his place in the church, and who was to do it for his sins; who came in improved condition, which he welcomed. Him, and his surroundings.

THE MARIE EDWARDS CASE.

It was no surprise that the jury disagreed in the case of Marie Edwards, accused of murdering Senator Lyon. In such an affair as this one's conclusion depends largely upon one's point of view. There is to be a retrial at once, it appears, and in the new hearing the public is promised even more sensational and significant revelations, it being asserted that the girl was the victim of a ruthless political system with far-reaching ramifications. The Times has no bias in this case, but hopes the whole truth will come out. Senator Lyon is a dead man and a newspaper attack on him personally, now, would come with ill grace. It is the desire of The Times to impress its readers with the viciousness of THE SYSTEM, of which Lyon and those who cooperated with him in politics formed a part. Not the men, but the system—the direct primary, self-nomination, vice-encouragement, graft-promotion, tax-creation system—therein you have the real evil, the present menace. Lyon, himself, and his political co-conspirators were the victims of it. Guileless ones have suffered from it. A monstrous thing it is and it must be fought down. Who dares defend it? Who has the temerity to present himself as its sponsor now? Who, outside of its shameless stipendiaries, would perpetuate it?

A TO CUTTING DOWN. F. R. Feithsahn, president of the Los Angeles Desk Company, and prominent in local business circles, says that one of the facts which has challenged his attention is that so many people nowadays are talking about the patriotism of curtailing business and cutting down expenses. Mr. Feithsahn is not one who believes in the efficacy of increasing the circulation of the blood by exerting special pressure on some particular vein or artery of the human system—and he thinks the commercial and political system of our country is not dissimilar in many respects to the human anatomy, its correlative parts and co-operative functions. He does not believe the body can be made healthier by amputating any of its members. Instead of less business he believes in more business, instead of a pressure on production he believes in more production in every line. He says that while many professional men are mistakenly advocating a false conservatism the average business man realizes the danger of such an attitude. The Times believes Mr. Feithsahn has the same idea. What do you think?

A DANGEROUS ATTITUDE. "Life is nothing but a gamble." It is doubtful if a more poisonous proverb was ever hatched in the brain of a fatalist. To admit that statement to be true is to belittle the mind with doubt, to practically abandon the God-given faculties of reason and will and to confess oneself a derelict on the ocean of chance with no compass to guide and no anchor but that of a broken hope. Life is not a gamble. It manifests according to fixed and definite forces and it should be the business and pleasure of every intelligent creature to try to discover the laws of nature and of his own being and to govern his conduct accordingly.

ICKENING SENSATIONALISM. "A drama of uncurbed impulses," "most thrilling spectacle ever shown on a moving picture screen," "a story of primitive passions and the freedom of natural instincts," "the most sensational picture ever produced," "a photoplay showing man as God made him," "a production in which red blood and brute strength make their own laws." Isn't such stuff getting sickening? Haven't we enough of all that in the actual life of the world today without emphasizing it on the screen? For mercy's sake, give us something that at least hints of justice, order and happiness!

THE FOLLY OF IT. Mexican snipers continue to fire on the American patrol at every opportunity, bandit gangs are still raiding American cattle ranches and occasionally attacking border towns. German money and German influence are doubtless responsible for a great deal of the trouble, and there is no question that these outbreaks contribute no little to the satisfaction of the Kaiser; but what do the fool Mexicans hope to gain, in the end, by these sporadic depredations?

HEAVEN PRESERVE US! There are some men whose sense of humor is so keen that if you say "Good morning" to them, and it happens to be 5 o'clock in the afternoon, they will first stand stunned, then tremblingly glance at their watches and make a break for safety. Doesn't it make you extremely happy to meet a man like that?

NEVER SAY DIE. A local minister, 77 years young, who had been married five times, recently took unto himself a bride of 55, who had been to the altar twice before. Evidently the old copy-book maxim, "If at first" etc., etc., had been drummed into the minds of these matrimonial adventurers pretty thoroughly.

REAL LOYALTY. It is true that organized labor has taken a part in the war, but let it not be forgotten that unorganized labor has also pulled the stroke car, without striking.

WHAT WILL BECOME OF AMERICA? What becomes of America will be determined by what America becomes. What are the forces which have built us to world dimensions? By what national vitalities have we grown great? Is our greatness in danger? Are we in peril of being overrun by Bolsheviks? Or I.W.W.? Or Greed?

We have, like the giant trees of California, reached our prodigious proportions by distinct life principles and processes. This Union of States is the sequence of adequate antecedents. Our Herculean bigness has not come by chance. It is not the flower and fruitage of so-called "fortuitous circumstances." These great States are the output of an inherent power. Let no man think that America is the chance combination of a vast gambling game of politicians. It is true that puppets, profiteers and politicians have been with us from the beginning and, the Lord knows, they are with us still, but American statesmanship has succeeded in spite of the plunderers and parasitic politicians. In the famous phrase of Matthew Arnold there has always been "a power that works for righteousness" in the heart of the American people. Had this "power that works for righteousness" been unhindered we had been far greater than we are. It is this central quality of righteousness that has made us a conquering cosmopolis. We have always had national sense enough to know that it is only righteousness which gives any people the prerogatives of power. And our safety must continue in our continuing to know that, as a nation grows to greatness, it must grow gentler and more generous. Woe unto that people whose power and prosperity make them arrogant. "PRIDE GOETH BEFORE DESTRUCTION." That is the sure prophecy of Prussianism's overthrow. "Me and Gott" is the fool's boast and it must meet the fool's destiny.

IT IS ONLY IN WORLD SERVICE THAT AMERICA CAN HOPE FOR WORLD SURVIVAL. Prussianism's WILL TO POWER and WILL TO PLUNDER must go down under democracy's WILL TO SERVE. This is the lesson from the world's battlefields. Again and again has the serpent of tyranny lifted its venomous head from its hiding in the grass. Through the ages the larger Asiatic empires have been under the misgovernments of tyranny. Those peoples have been beaten and baffled by tyrants. As to a worthy world influence every people which has been ruled or, we should say, misruled by the "Will to power" has been a perishing people. Twenty-four hundred years ago on the plains of Marathon this struggle was on between the "Will to power" and the "will to serve." That was the struggle in the battle of Arbelae. It was the same with certain ethnic and incidental variations in the battle of the Meturus, of Chalons, of Tours, of Hastings, of Blenheim, of Pultowa. It was the issue at the battle of Saratoga, at Waterloo, in the Franco-Prussian war, in our great Civil War of the sixties, in the recent Spanish-American war and now in the world war which besets our planet. As King John went down at Runnymede, as Henry III was conquered by Simon de Montfort, as the spirit of Prussian tyranny was beaten a hundred years ago at Waterloo, as the spirit of that tyranny was conquered by Dewey at Manila Bay, so the Prussian Kaiser will be crushed in our glorious today, on all the world's great battle fronts of freedom.

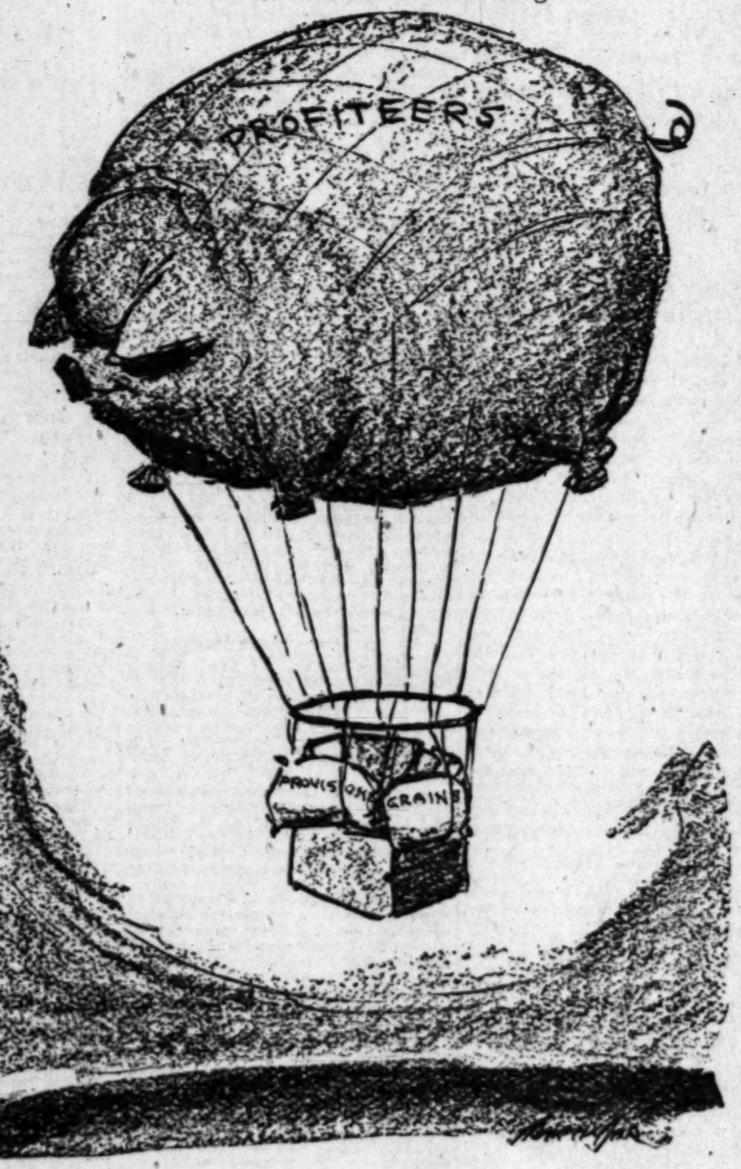

America swings wide in this world service for human liberty. She will survive in this great service to the world. She will meet the alternative of destiny which is SERVE AND SURVIVE, OR PLUNDER AND PERISH. Americanism is marching far and wide in a world ministry. Prussianism will perish in her bloody attack on God and humanity. Prof. William James has a heartening word on democracy. That great American philosopher says: "Faiths and utopias are the noblest exercise of human reason, and no one with a spark of reason in him will sit down fatalistically before the croaker's picture. The best of us are filled with the contrary vision of a democracy stumbling through every error till its institutions glow with justice and its customs shine with beauty. Our better men shall show the way and we shall follow them. . . . The ceaseless whisper of the more permanent ideals, the steady tug of truth and justice, give them but time, must warp the world in their direction."

As Lincoln said, we shall not be destroyed by any outside enemy from over the sea. But if we are destroyed it will be FROM FOES WITHIN. Political, anarchistic or moral Bolsheviks. We must be prepared to meet all foes to human liberty and justice. We shall not sit supinely down at the feet of slaughter, domestic or foreign. Our method is to enable the Bolsheviks to riot and revolutionary to own a home and to buy a Ford automobile and to have a stake in his country; we Americanize him in the end, by these sporadic depredations?

III. BUT THE AMERICAN PEOPLE MUST TAKE A FIRMER HOLD ON THE PILARS OF OUR REPUBLIC. It is not pessimism to say that there are tares in our fair field of democracy now. He is not a pessimist nor an alarmist, but a wise surgeon, whose diagnosis finds the cancer and takes it out by the roots. He is not a fanatic who tells me that my house is on fire even though he may tell me when the first spreading spark is discovered. People long accustomed to safety are slow to believe in danger. Most of us Americans are too much in hurry to read history. We skim the surface of the pond too much like the swallow. We are just now greatly in need of taking the bullfrog plunge. Then we shall find out what is at the bottom. In crossing our city streets the only safety is in NOT ALLOWING OURSELVES TO LOSE OUR SENSE OF DANGER. Recklessness in the presence of explosives is irrational. Were we more deeply read in the history of America and in the history

Muzzle the Political Ballyhoo.

There may be some cause for honest criticism of the conduct of war, but nothing to warrant the chorus of political "Ballyhoo" who have risen to the present opportunity to be heard. The American people are weary of the bumptious of the administration critics—they want action, not words. We may not approve of the peculiar maneuvers of the Secretary of War, but he is the man upon whom the duties of preparing the army for service depend and he should have our support as far as possible. The roaring of Stone and the howls of the entire anti-administration pack have served no purpose other than to nauseate the public to which the unsavory mass has been served by the daily press.

Out of Mental Reach.

A correspondent writes from one of our neighboring towns that young Johnny So-and-So has the "Liberty measles." Hanged if we can grasp the psychology of it, knowing full well that thereby the "German measles" has been wiped off the sanitary records and "Liberty measles" substituted. The fact is, we not only are puzzled, but we're trying not to get mad.

If the measles were not ruthless, if there were some feature of liberty about it, we could see into it, but the opposite is the fact. Such a low-down, contrary, ornery, ferocious malady as the measles is properly named German.

And why pollute the term "Liberty" by such association? Gee! if the Old Boy were called "German devil," we wouldn't name him "Liberty devil," in order to take a crack at the Kaiser, would we?—[Fresno Herald.]

Should be Interned.

If Dr. Chas. F. Aked, late acting pastor of the Congregational Church of this city, is guilty of making statements as reported, he ought to be interned for the duration of the war as an inciter of sedition.

Dr. Aked, according to published reports, thinks the ministers of the country who are supporting their country in this war crisis are "howling for blood" and have "repent in sack cloth and ashes" for their sins.

How do the loyal people of River-side who made quite a hero of Aked when he was here like that sort of talk?

It is the language of a slacker, if not a traitor. It is talk that is calculated to give "aid and comfort" to the enemy; and the man who makes it ought to be treated like an alien enemy.—[Riverside Press.]

Hook Me Up!

The newly-elected officers of the Chamber of Commerce have taken hold of the work of placing Corcoran on the map as the finest spot in the San Joaquin Valley for eastern homesteads with a view which will not fail to bring results. Five hundred copies of The Journal went all over the Middle Western States this week. Hundreds of them went to cities of from 2000 to 5000 in the States of Nebraska, Texas, Iowa, Montana, Idaho, Utah, and Oregon, mostly to public libraries where they will be read, not by one or two, but by scores of frequenters of libraries in winter.

America must standardize democratically her entire school system. Universities, colleges, academies, high schools, public schools and private schools must be governmentally democratized. At these fountain heads each teacher and educator must be required by the government to be democratically American. The government should publish its own school books, carefully prepared by its morally and mentally best and wisest men and women. Then we shall not be outraged by a spy like Munsterburg as a professor from a Minnesota university, through the McMillan publishers, is unloading his dangerous book—"Theories of Social Progress" upon our own State Normal School. In this book the author quotes that brutal brain known as Nietzsche thus: "Christianity has been the greatest misfortune hitherto of mankind." This American professor speaks sympathetically of the German blood-sucker and the Hun. Let us have sense enough to know that WHENEVER AND WHEREVER THE AMERICAN HOME IS HURT, AMERICAN DEMOCRACY IS HURT. He is an unpatriotic Prussian and a heartless Hun who is disloyal to his home. A man who is traitor to his wife and children is a traitor to his country. A woman who betrays her husband and child is a female Hun.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE:

OATMAN (Ariz.) Feb. 22.—History was made in the Oatman district

during the past week, upon a scale

before equalled in the annals of the camp. It is doubtful if any district ever witnessed three vital and significant developments so consummated in less than a space of three days

during the past week.

On Monday, the Tom Reed cross-from the 525-foot level of the workings reached the foot wall of a new vein 500 feet south, which promises to rival the original

Harrison ore body that has yielded over $5,000,000 in gold.

On Tuesday, the United Eastern entered the vein on the 500-foot level, and production was now at the 525-foot level. The miners are body to extend 500 feet downward and doubling the mine's ore reserves, making it

one of the world's greatest gold mines.

Wednesday, the Gold Ore crossed the 500-foot level, penetrated

the vein, revealing a fifteen-foot vein of the finest quartz ever seen in the district, and assuring the addition of another productive and accumulative effect of these strikes has been to create a sense of interest and activity such as has not been experienced since the following the United States strike of 1912. Mining men of all the West are arriving in Oatman daily and already several other operations are starting or preparing for extensive work.

The outstanding effect of these developments that touches the future of the district most vital is the assurance that the Gold will be placed upon a productive and accumulative effect of these strikes of at least 500 feet above the present level.

While it is impossible to give relative figures as to the value of the ore in the vein, it is much better in appearance and character than anything seen on the upper levels.

At strike on the Tom Reed is resisted by many good authorities as nearly proving the existence of the vein in the Oatman district.

About 450 feet south, and it is believed that this is an exen-tation of the original Tom Reed vein.

The vein is in that portion of the ground near the Aztec claim, passing through the broken and interpered veins. The vein dips at an angle of about 45 degrees, and at the end of the vein it turns to the west, and then turns to the east. The vein is 500 feet long and

"THE MANXMAN."

PICTURES AT GUINEE'S BROADWAY, MILLER'S SYMPHONY.

By Antony Anderson.

As we have not yet seen all the picture plays of the week, an attitude of prophecy may be a dangerous one for me to take. But I cannot believe that any other picture that Los Angeles is to have, either among those that began yesterday, or among those that begin tomorrow, will prove to be more significant than "The Manxman," now showing at the Guinee.

I use the word significant advisedly. Not that I especially like Hall Caine's novels, for I do not. But I do like the present picturization of one of his most popular stories. It has, it seems to me, all the requirements of a fine photoplay. All but one, to be exact. The photography might be better, but we shall excuse that, as it is hard to consider the difficulties under which the films were made—outdoors, on the Isle of Man, in all sorts and conditions of weather. Caine himself helps in the making of these pictures, and Caine, I opine, might sometime be much more difficult than the weather.

"The Manxman" is a big story kept on a high plane. It deals with tremendously important human relations, and it shows that when a man of conscience and sensibility is a prey to the forces of evil, he cannot find happiness. Philip tried it—and failed. Kate tried it—and failed. And they brought great suffering, not only to themselves, but to the men who loved them both, big, faithful, simple Pete Quilliam.

"The Manxman," in short, is life itself. It is a poignantly gripping story, and the tragedy it overtake, Pete brings him into your throat, perhaps even tears to your eyes. Pete is wonderfully well done, by Fred Grove, who looks and acts like a robust young Manx fisherman. He is ably supported by Elizabeth Risdon, as Kate, and by a young actress whose name eludes me, in the role of J. Philip.

"Hidden Pearls."

Another "gripping" photoplay of the week is "Loaded Dice" pictures from a story by Ellery Clark. I have not read the story, and don't know where it was printed. The plot is not clear, but it may have been a very good story, if one may judge from the photoplay, which I think one may. The pictures are shown at Miller's.

A subtitle to "Loaded Dice" might very appropriately be printed as "The Man Whom God 'Got'."

I suggest this in no flippant mood, for, indeed, "Loaded Dice" is not a light play. It is on the contrary a somber, serious, and realistic with matters of vital importance.

Frank Keenan plays the part of the adventurer, who scoffs at right, who God, and who woke to realization of his stupendous folly when the mills of the God he denied had ground him down to death.

"Loaded Dice" is a timely photoplay, and it shows the greed of the higher-ups who are food-providers to the tune of a million or more. The man who denies God joins them by chicanery that ends in two murders. On the eve of his election as Governor of his State, the Nemesis that has been dogging his footsteps overtakes him.

The story is absorbing, and, as I said, gripping. But Keenan's acting is at the full of power and a fine reserve. He is ably supported.

"Sins of Ambition."

Some photoplays are written by hand—a flowing, agreeable long-hand, easy to read and pleasant to look at; some it would appear, are written by machine. "Sins of Ambition" is machine-made product is now running at the Symphony under the title of "Sins of Ambition."

It is a good title, an enticing one, and it suggests a plot that will be both exciting and interesting. "Sins of Ambition" makes a score or more attempts at excitement, only to fail in the end. And throughout the play you hear the buzz of the machinery. Even the actors catch it to the extent that they never for a moment forget that they are actors, and will not permit us to forget it.

The most of the scenes in "Sins of Ambition" seem to move under the observation of two people, and to move, and making them two clasp and hug. Everybody in the play is in love with somebody and forever on the qui vive to demonstrate his or her affection.

This little protest of mine is not a slam—it is an appeal. I implore the author to come down to earth and study real men and women for his next play.

"FLARE UP SAL!" FOLKS COME OUT OF THE SILENCE.

By Grace Kingsley.

The experiment of combining the spoken drama and the motion pictures has been attempted a number of times. However, there still remains the tang of novelty when you see your hero and heroine step out of the films, as it were, into the flesh, and then back again into the silence.

Sid Grauman is going to do it again this week at his theater. Almost the entire cast of "Flare Up Sal," a Thomas H. Ince production starring Dorothy Dalton, has been engaged to appear in a special prologue to the play. This prologue, arranged by Mr. Grauman and rehearsed under his direction by the original company with the big orchestra, will open the original production in the "Loo-Loo Hall" of the old mining camp of Jimtown, where the Argonaut, bearing the golden fruit of his toll in the California hills and streets, comes in the light and music and glittering dresses of the band and the roulette wheel, forgetfulness of the hardships encountered in the battle for the dust."

Many of the stage settings for the play have been obtained from the original sets in the Ince studios, and the members of the company wear the costumes in which they appeared before the cameras. Miss Dalton, who was to have appeared today, was called to San Francisco suddenly, last Friday, but will return this week in time to take part in the prologue before the curtain of the picture ends.

He Danced It.

We've had "interpretative dances" by the scores, in which the dancers profess to be able to tell wonderful stories; but it remained for Lou Clayton and White to no worse than in "Show of Wonders," Winter Garden production at the Mason this week, to tell a funny story with their feet.

He told a little idea into execution on the street corners of Providence before I went on the stage," said Mr. White, but once I was stumped. A fellow came along and said he could not get into the store. I couldn't put into dancing, and yet it would be the sort of story you could tell in mixed company, too. I let him.

"And he told a story that was full of stutterings!"

GENERAL REVIEWS.

Palace.

Douglas Fairbanks in "A Modern Musketeer," his recent Artcraft success that has had long runs in all the larger cities of the United States, is the attraction extraordinary at the Palace this week, along with two added features, the first installment of the official Italian war films, and "Whose Wife?" another one of those riotous, yet subtle Christie comedies.

The long runs "A Modern Musketeer" had from Maine to California attest to the popularity of funster "Doux" in this burlesque on Alexander Burns' famous novel. All the mirth centers about a mother, who read this story so much that she became infatuated with the idea of having her son a twentieth century D'Artagnan. How this maternal infatuation gets the son in question into all manner of scrapes makes a comedy-drama that fairly radiates smiles, grins and guffaws, and shows what a 100 per cent comedian Douglas Fairbanks really is. The war pictures are first-hand views showing actual fighting, and have been highly praised for their accuracy all over the country. The week's Christie comedy is full of "pep," and adds to the merriment afforded by the Fairbanks fun film.

TO ISSUE ALIEN ENEMIES' CARDS.

GERMANS WHO REGISTERED ARE SCHEDULED IN THREE CLASSES BY CHIEF BUTLER.

With the preliminary work completed, Chief of Police John L. Butler, acting as the chief registrar of German alien enemies in Los Angeles, today will begin the issuing of cards to applicants whose applications were made during the registration period, and after a police investigation, found to be correct. The various police stations handling the several districts will be open from 8 o'clock a.m. to 8 o'clock p.m., until March 1.

All German alien enemy registrants have been placed in three classes, and the cards will be issued in the order in which the classes are placed on the list.

Class One consists of those whose affidavits are in order and completed and have been found satisfactorily filed out; Class Two consists of the persons whose answers have been found imperfectly made out, and who, upon being closely and carefully questioned by the deputy registrars, shall give satisfactory evidence that an unintentional error was made; while the third class is made up of persons whose questionnaires show evidence of willful misrepresentations.

SMALL AND VERY ENTHUSIASTIC AUDIENCE LISTENS.

By Jeanne Redman.

The Chernavsky Trio has the distinction of bringing together the smallest audiences to the largest enthusiasm of any musical organization which visits this Coast.

Last Saturday afternoon they played at Trinity Auditorium, and before the first number was over, the audience displayed the usual frantic delight which seizes upon hearing these Russian youths. Indeed, after the first movement of the Chernavsky Trio in D Minor, they stood three times to the applause before being allowed to continue.

Musically, speaking, the Chernavsky number is neither profound nor inspired; it is charming, however, and light, and the sort of thing which the Chernavskys do to perfection.

The scherzo movement is simply a fascinating little waltz with an accompaniment of the British Military March.

The piano, while the 'cello and the violin alternate the themes; and the last movement, the finale, was a short trio in itself with three small movements in one, and repeating the forms of the allegro and concluding.

As for the acting, it is superlatively good. Miss Brockwell never has done better work than as the tigerish little spifits. South American girls, Carmen sort of characters, who play the bad girls and get herself carried off by a man in a tuxedo in her nightie, is a girl-with-the-little-curl double role—when she is good she is very, very good, and when she is bad, my, ain't she horrid? In other words, to use a Hibernianism, she is very good in the bad role.

There is very little morality or absolutely no law in "The Moral Law," which is Gladys Brockwell's photoplay at the Alhambra this week.
